

Your BRP will expire on 31 December 2024?

REPLACE YOUR BRP WITH AN eVISA

Soon, you might receive the email below from the Home Office. It is very important that you follow these steps and that you replace your BRP with an e-visa. It is best to do it before end of October 2024.

If the Home Office doesn't get in touch, please check their website to understand what you need to do.

Dear Sir/Madam,

We are contacting you because your BRP will expire on 31 December 2024. To prove your immigration status after this date you will need to replace your BRP with an eVisa. The expiration of your BRP card does not affect your immigration status. However, starting in 2025, the way you prove your immigration status will change.

What do I need to do now?

Please take the following steps now:

1. Create a UKVI account to access your eVisa, which will replace your BRP.
2. To create your UKVI account, you will need:
 - Your date of birth
 - Your BRP Number
 - Your passport (if you do not have a BRP)
 - Access to an email address and phone number
 - Access to a smartphone

You should create your UKVI account at: <https://www.gov.uk/get-access-evisa>.

Got a question?

For more information about eVisas and to get help creating your UKVI account, visit: <https://www.gov.uk/evisa>.

Already have an eVisa or another physical document?

If you already have an eVisa, or if you have another document to prove your immigration status such as a certificate of entitlement of right of abode, visit <https://www.gov.uk/evisa> for more information on how this change will affect you.

Legal representative, or an immigration application advisor?

If you are a legal representative or advisor and used your email address for client immigration applications, please disregard this message. We will send you specific information later this year.

More information here